ROMANY THEATER OPENS WITH 'WHIP OF FIRE' MONDAY

Strong Cast Will Produce Mystery Play Written by Girdler Fitch

IS FINAL PLAY AT ROMANY THIS YEAR

Large Attendance Expected; No Plays to Be Presented Next Season

The final Romany play of the season, "The Whip of Fire," by Girdler Fitch, opens in the Romany theater Monday night, May 14, for a week of nightly performances. The cast is headed by Jeanette Lampert and Prof. R. D. McIntyre. The remainder of the personnel of the cast includes Alvin Hammel, Elsworth Perrin, Mrs. T. T. Jones, Miss Caroline Speyer, Bennett Tucker, James E. Gates, and Ollie M. James.

The plot concerns itself with the revolutionary theories of Dr. Barton, a young psychiatrist, who believes that all crime might be eliminated by observing people with criminal tendencies, and locking them up as soon as they appear to be dangerous enough to be apt to commit any crime. Professor McIntyre is cast as Dr. Barton, Miss Lampert playing opposite him as Lucette, the doctor's fiancee. The play is said to portray a psychological reaction such as was the case in "Outward Bound," except that the emotional manifestations are more tangible than in the previous play. The plot marches through the thrilling sequences of a murder, the hunt for the killer, and a happy ending of a perfectly logical nature. The play possesses none of the triteness of the typical murder play, yet surpasses its thrills and action without straining the credulity of the audience at any moment.

The play is to be the last to be given by Romany for at least a year, since Professor Sax, the director of the players, has obtained a leave of absence from the University for next year in order that he may enter the school of fine arts at Yale. Professor Sax is being assisted in the direction of the play by Jeanette Lampert.

Roller Skating Derby To Be Held Saturday

Intra-Mural Department Sponsors Races For Both Eds and Co-Eds

The second annual roller skating derby, which is promoted by the intra-mural department of the University, will be held Saturday, May 12. This is the only athletic event sponsored by the men's physical education department in which both men and women compete.

Every student registered in the University is eligible to enter the various events and compete for the silver loving cups to be presented to the winners of each event, and present indications are that there will be a large number of entrants.

The races will be held on Euclid avenue. Three races for men at distances of 100, 200, and 400 yards have been arranged, while the co-eds will test their skill on 50-, 100-, and 200-yard straightaways. The Sigma Nu, victors in the fraternity relay last year, and Alpha Gamma Delta, who captured the sorority event, have indicated that they will enter teams in an effort to repeat. Four persons, each skating 100 yards, will make up a relay team.

The only restriction imposed is that winners of last year's races will not be permitted to enter the same events this year, exclusive of relay teams.

Papers Ask To Enter State Contest

Press Association Committee Sends Out Call For Entrants

The Kentucky Press Association committee on newspaper prize awards for weekly and semi-weekly papers has just sent out from the department of journalism of the University a call to prospective entrants in the contest for 1928 for exhibits of newspapers, advertising matter, etc. The prizes will be awarded during the meeting of K. P. A. at Elizabethtown this summer.

The committee is composed of Prof. Enoch Grehan, head of the University department of journalism, chairman; Warren Fisher, editor of the Carlisle Mercury; R. E. Garrison, editor of the Anderson News, Lawrenceburg, and M. F. Conley, editor of the Louisville News. The papers will be sent to the department of journalism of the University and through the chairman of the committee submitted to the judges.

This contest was first fostered by the department of journalism in 1922 and is sustained by funds donated for that purpose by The Lexington Herald, Lexington Leader, the Louisville Times and Post, and Professor Grehan.

The prizes consist of a handsome loving cup to the best all-around paper, a cup to the best first page of any paper, money prizes to seconds and thirds in both cases, and a gold money prize to the best editorial written throughout the year prior to the forthcoming meeting.

This contest has grown to be an outstanding feature of the K. P. A. summer meeting.

U. K. Men to Manage Herald Advertising

Above are shown the members of the Kentucky chapter, Alpha Delta Sigma, national honorary advertising fraternity. This group will manage the advertising sections of The Lexington Herald when it is edited by journalism students the morning of May 15. They are from left to right: Front row, Ray Valade, L. C. Cummins, Harold Bennett, J. S. Fish, Virgil Couch, president; Dr. J. B. Miner, faculty advisor; second row, James Shropshire, A. K. Messick, secretary-treasurer; H. B. Ellis, vice president; William Durbeck, Francis Watson and F. J. Conn, Jr.

SIGMA XI TO HEAR ROSWELL JOHNSON

Noted Eugenicist Will Address Banquet Tonight; Gives Illustrated Lecture This Afternoon in Physics Building.

Prof. Roswell H. Johnson, of the University of Pittsburgh, will give an illustrated lecture this afternoon at 3:15 in the Civil Engineering and Physics building on the subject: "Changing Russia." The public is invited to hear the talk which is being sponsored by the Kentucky chapter of Sigma Xi, national honorary scientific society. There will be no admission charge.

In December, 1927, the manuscript turned up among some articles found on trains between Indianapolis and Cincinnati. Evidently Mr. Eigenmann had left it on the train. His name, and the name of the University were on the manuscript, hence it was an easy matter for the railroad officials to trace its ownership.

Under the direction of Mrs. Eigenmann, the manuscript was turned over to Dr. Allen to finish. Mr. Eigenmann and Dr. Allen had worked together in preparing the manuscript, previous to its loss. Dr. Allen's addition to the work will represent work done on fishes collected by him in South America from 1918 to 1921.

The material used in the manuscript all comes from the highlands of the Andes, and the headwaters of the Amazon.

Engineers to Give Masked Ball Friday Night

The annual masked ball of the College of Engineering will be held in the Men's gymnasium next Friday night from 9 until 1. Music will be furnished by the Kentucky Rhythm Kings and the Kentuckians.

According to an announcement made by Mr. Jack Dicker the affair will be the most pretentious in the history of masked balls at the University.

Everybody attending is required to be masked, and costumes may be ordered through Mr. Dicker today and tomorrow.

Tickets may be purchased from any member of the College of Engineering for one dollar and fifty cents.

Graduate School Awards Scholarships

Fourteen Students Are Honored; Three Are Lexington Residents

Five fellowships and nine scholarships in the graduate school at the University were announced Saturday by Dr. W. D. Funkhouser, dean of the graduate school.

Only one fellowship and two scholarships went to students out of the state. The others were scattered through Kentucky; three of the scholarships were awarded to students who live in Lexington.

Those honored were as follows: Fellowships—J. L. Miller, Brooksville, agriculture; William E. Spicer, Danville, Va.; chemistry; William K. Smith, Louisville, metallurgy; James W. Singer, Georgetown, Greek, and Roy H. Ousley, Bowling Green, political science. Scholarships—Robert Spicer, Lexington, engineering; William L. Maschmeyer, Paducah, metallurgy; Lucile Gay Naff, Lexington, English; C. A. Poole, Lexington, physics; Thomas D. Clark, University of Mississippi, history; Harry L. Dillen, Hammond, N. Y., mathematics; Russell Smith Park, Richmond, mathematics; Margaret B. Tandy, Murray, English, and Samuel S. Shawhan, Georgetown, engineering.

NEW EDITORS APPOINTED

Misses Agnes Stiman and Kathryn McWilliams have been appointed by Prof. Enoch Grehan, head of the department of journalism, as editors of the campus bulletin, for the year 1928-1929. They succeed Misses Eula Webb and Pauline Carpenter who have had charge of the bulletin for the past year. The new editors will assume their duties next week. The bulletin is issued every week and contains announcements and news items of the University.

Doctor Allen to Complete Article by C. Eigenmann

Dr. W. R. Allen, associate professor of zoology at the University, is working on a manuscript, "Fishes of the Eastern slope of the Andes," by Dean Carl H. Eigenmann, who died a year ago, before completing his work. The manuscript was lost by Mr. Eigenmann in December, 1925. He was on his way to Florida, and was taking the manuscript with him. When he arrived at his destination, the manuscript was missing.

In December, 1927, the manuscript turned up among some articles found on trains between Indianapolis and Cincinnati. Evidently Mr. Eigenmann had left it on the train. His name, and the name of the University were on the manuscript, hence it was an easy matter for the railroad officials to trace its ownership.

Under the direction of Mrs. Eigenmann, the manuscript was turned over to Dr. Allen to finish. Mr. Eigenmann and Dr. Allen had worked together in preparing the manuscript, previous to its loss. Dr. Allen's addition to the work will represent work done on fishes collected by him in South America from 1918 to 1921.

The material used in the manuscript all comes from the highlands of the Andes, and the headwaters of the Amazon.

The seventh annual banquet of the local chapter of Sigma Xi will be held in the Palm Room of the Phoenix hotel this evening at 6 o'clock.

Professor Johnson will be the principal speaker of the occasion and will talk on "Eugenic Aspects of Politics and Religion."

The basis of this talk will be his personal experiences in Russia and China. The committee in charge of the dinner is composed of C. S. Crouse, Alfred Brauer, and M. M. States. The annual election of officers will take place at the banquet.

General Jamerson To Review R. O. T. C. And Present Awards

The R. O. T. C. of the University will pass in review May 23 before Brig. Gen. George H. Jamerson, of Virginia, commander of the 10th infantry brigade of Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind., who will present commissions to about 75 senior officers on that date.

General Jamerson was graduated from the United States Military Academy in 1893. He was in command of the 15th infantry of the 80th division during the World War and received the Distinguished Service Medal and two silver star citations for gallantry during the war. On August 26, 1927, he was made brigadier general.

Besides the review of the R. O. T. C., there will be several other interesting events during the day. A silver cup will be awarded to the best drilled cadet, to be selected in the competitive manual of arms, and one to the ranking cadet in each class. There will also be a competitive drill between the best company in each battalion. When marching from the field, the senior officers will fall out of line and the regiment in command of junior officers will pass in review before them.

NEW EDITORS APPOINTED

Misses Agnes Stiman and Kathryn McWilliams have been appointed by Prof. Enoch Grehan, head of the department of journalism, as editors of the campus bulletin, for the year 1928-1929. They succeed Misses Eula Webb and Pauline Carpenter who have had charge of the bulletin for the past year. The new editors will assume their duties next week. U. OF K. DEBATERS FINISH SEASON

Transylvania and University Hold Split-team Debate on Coolidge Central America Policy; Richard Weaver Is Star.

The University's debating season was concluded Monday night at Morrison Chapel when the Kentucky representatives, Richard Weaver, Russell Davis and Pat B. Rankin, engaged the Transylvania debating team in the first official competition for several years between the two institutions, on the question: "Resolved, That the Coolidge Administration's Central American Policy Constitutes a Menace to World Peace."

Richard Malcolm Weaver, freshman member of the Wildcat debate squad, was the outstanding luminary of the evening. His clear logic and eloquent persuasiveness contributed greatly to the almost irrefutable argument of the negative.

Weaver and Davis, with K. P. Wolfe, of Transylvania, defended the negative side of the question, and Rankin, with Alfred Naff and A. C. D. Gordon, of Transylvania, were the affirmative speakers. Prof. William Sutherland, coach of the University debating team, presided and introduced the debaters. No decision was rendered.

The debate early developed into a state of both teams vying with each other in an effort to satirize the Coolidge administration. Gordon, the first speaker, defined a menace to world peace as any action which would create ill feeling between nations. He went on to show that America's imperialism in Nicaragua was creating that ill feeling. He declared that when Coolidge said capital and American citizens abroad are part of the general domain of the United States, "He out-bolsheviks the 'bolshheviks.'

Wolfe, the second speaker, said that the bloodshed of recent times in Nicaragua is nothing to compare with the bloodshed which has existed in that state. He declared every great nation of Europe pursued the same policy as the United States is following—defending its property and citizens abroad.

Pat B. Rankin, the first University speaker, declared that the world was so united that every nation is in intimate contact with every other nation and that any act of imperialism will thus endanger world peace.

Large Audience Hears "Messiah" Wednesday Night

(By Ollie M. James)

"The Messiah," Handel's famous oratorio, was presented to 3,000 persons in the gymnasium of the University Wednesday night by a chorus of 300 voices, accompanied by an orchestra of 75 pieces. The chorus was made up of singers from Georgetown, Paris, Lexington, Berea, Frankfort and other central Kentucky towns.

The presentation was sponsored by the University and the Central Kentucky Choral Association, of which Prof. Carl A. Lampert, head of the University music department, is the director. The accompaniment was furnished by the University Philharmonic orchestra.

The soloists were Dan Beddoe, famous oratorio tenor; Olive June Lahey, soprano; Edna Swanson Verhaar, contralto, and Stanley Deacon, baritone. Mr. Beddoe sang the beautiful tenor aria with a charm that was the product of years of attention to technique and a thorough knowledge of the traditions of the oratorio. The remainder of the solo parts were as adequately rendered, but did not receive the same masterful interpretations that Mr. Beddoe, the grand old man of oratorio, gave his work. The choir of voices blended into one glorious ensemble, forming a huge organ of voices upon which Director Lampert played with the touch of a genius.

The basses roared forth a challenge which the upper voices leaped to meet at a wave of the baton. Glorious sopranos, brilliant and lovely in their freedom from nasal tone, answered the call of the full-throated baritones. The entire ensemble rose and fell from soul-stirring whispers of the promises of Christ to tremendous, surging climaxes which left the audience breathless in awe of its tonal grandeur.

The performance was entirely free from any suggestion of amateurism because of the years of practice which the chorus has had in the presentation of similar oratorios, active practice for this performance having been held in the respective cities of the vocal delegations since January, the orchestra also having practiced since the early part of February.

Lamp and Cross Pledge Ten Men

Senior Honorary Names Outstanding Juniors At Dance

Lamp and Cross, honorary senior fraternity, pledged ten men who are outstanding juniors at the University, at a dance given by that organization Saturday night in the Men's gymnasium.

A dinner was given at the Phoenix hotel at 7:30 o'clock for members of the chapter and their friends. The dance immediately followed and all University students were invited to attend.

The purpose of the award is to give recognition and encouragement to high scholarship among the students who are studying journalism. Students are chosen on the basis of their scholastic average for their first three years in college and who stand in the highest ten per cent of their graduating journalism class.

The successful candidates will receive a Sigma Delta Chi scholarship award certificate and have the privilege of wearing the gold scholastic key. The students here receiving the awards have standings of 3, 2.9, 2.8, and 2.7.

Members of the active chapter are Elmer Gilb, Newport; William Glanz, Louisville; Clair Dees, Lexington; Waller Jones, Lexington; John Dundon, Louisville; Arthur Munyan, Lexington; Henry Maddox, Shelbyville; James Shropshire, Lexington; Beverly Waddill, Madisonville; and Carroll E. Byron, Owingsville.

The successful candidates will receive a Sigma Delta Chi scholarship award certificate and have the privilege of wearing the gold scholastic key. The students here receiving the awards have standings of 3, 2.9, 2.8, and 2.7.

TRUSTEES FLAY ATHLETIC COUNCIL

Action Allowed By Faculty Committee in 1903 Thanksgiving Game Is Censured by Vote of Board.

ARTICLE VI.

1904-05

Up to this time it has been necessary to consult the daily files of the local papers in order to obtain the record of the games along with the list of the players.

The issuance of the college annual had not yet become an established practice and the yearly alumni publications generally omitted all references to athletics.

Henceforth, however, the University possesses in its own contemporary archives a tolerably complete history of athletics in regard to schedules, scores and players, and the reader will be referred to these for detailed records relating to such matters.

At the close of the 1903 football season, the faculty committee on athletics was investigated by a committee of the board of trustees. Despite a very able defense in person by Richard Stoll and Clay Elkin, the findings of the committee were adverse to the committee on athletics for the faculty. Its action in the Thanksgiving game affair was condemned by the board and a vote of censure passed upon it.

The faculty committee remained in charge of athletics for the remainder of the collegiate year, but declined to accept reappointment by the president the following year.

The men's basketball team was not very successful, winning only one out of the four games played.

The girls' basketball team was quite successful, winning both of its games played.

In the spring the baseball team played 16 games, six of which were on a trip to Ohio and Indiana. It won a total of six out of these 16 games.

A field meet was held with Central University which was won against her by a score of 78 to 40.

Fall of 1904

The old committee declining to serve, the president appointed on the new committee the new commandant, Major Burt, and Professors Faig, Mackenzie, Pence and Matthews. Only the first three took a very active interest or part in the management for the next two years that the committee was in charge.

Dr. Frederick E. Schaeft, of the Medical College of the University of Minnesota had been selected as coach by the outgoing committee.

Mr. Nisbet, familiarly known as "Noisy," was assistant manager and White Guy captain. The name of the manager does not appear in the alumni report of this year.

The team had a very successful season, scoring 271 points to their opponents' 15.

Toward the close it consisted of:

It lost only one game—that to the University of Cincinnati, 0 to 11.

The Thanksgiving game was with K. U. and was very exciting. It had been preceded by much acrimonious correspondence over the eligibility of players carried on between Professor Fairhurst for K. U., and Mackenzie for S. C., which was published in the papers and partisan feeling ran high.

While it had no effect on changing the final constitution of the teams, it doubtless served to more widely advertise the game, with the result that the attendance was one of the largest ever seen on the State College grounds.

K. U. protested Grady, alleging professionalism because he caught a few games for a team in his home neighborhood—the Hopkinsville baseball team.

S. C. replied, defending Grady against the charge of professionalism and making counter charges against the bona fide student character of Woodward, Wallace and Miller.

A very important factor in the winning of this game was a talk given to the team by Dr. Kastle just before it left for the field. Though lighter than their opponents, this appeal so stirred their fighting qualities that they carried everything before them from the first onslaught, and the final score was 22 to 4. The only score made by K. U. was a goal from the field by Woodward.

Spring of 1905

The record by the baseball team was a creditable one, it having won six out of the eight games played. Those lost were games with Indiana, (2 to 1), and K. U., the first one (13 to 7). S. C. won the second game with K. U. (9 to 2).

The picture of the team appears in the alumni report of 1905. However, with no names accompanying, I am unable at this late date to identify all of the players from it.

Fall of 1905

Coach Schaeft was retained for the football season of this year. Kemper was captain and Nisbet manager.

ALUMNUS IS GOVERNOR'S AIDE

Earl Maxwell Heavrin, who was graduated from the College of Law of 1923, recently assumed his new duties as aide to Governor Flem D. Sampson. The appointment was made by the governor. Mr. Heavrin has been practicing his profession in Hartford since being graduated from the University. He was married to Miss Mary C. Pate '24, on June 1, 1925. They have moved to Frankfort where they will live in the future.

They Tell Me

James Edward Parker, Jr., B. S. 1920, is a farmer and is located near Maysville, Ky. His address is R. R. 4, Maysville, Ky.

Thomas Bryan Proops, B. S. M. E. 1922, has returned to the United States from Cuba and is again associated with the Kansas Gas and Electric Company, of Wichita, Kas.

George Fultz Reddish, B. S. 1919, is with the United States Bureau of Chemistry. He lives in Washington where his address is 3532 Connecticut Avenue, N. W.

Marcus C. Redwine, LL. B. 1919, is an attorney and is located in Winchester, Ky., where he has offices in the Clark National Bank building.

Louis Reusch, Jr., B. S. 1919, is owner and manager of the Golden Rod Orchards, in Yakima, Wash., where his address is Box 106, R. R. 6.

Mose Smith, B. S. C. E. 1919, is an engineer for the Louisiana State Highway department and is located at Ruston, La.

Henry W. Sullivan, LL. B. 1922, is an attorney and is located in Mt. Sterling, Ky.

Allen E. Sams, A. B. 1922, is teaching in the Louisville Male High School. He was married to Miss Ethel R. Frisbee in 1924 and they live at 195 Coral avenue, Louisville, Ky.

Arthur Price Shanklin, B. S. M. E. 1922, is located at 749 Wynnewood Road, Philadelphia, Pa. He was married to Miss Mildred Porter, '21, in 1924.

Courtland L. Short, B. S. 1922, is with the Exchange Lumber Company of Roanoke, Va. He was married to Miss Selma G. Gray in 1924, and they live at 311 Arbutus avenue, Roanoke, Va.

Margaret E. Shropshire, A. B. 1922, is now Mrs. William Addams, and is an instructor in the Art Department of the University.

Kins, Band, Black, York, Swope and Barr.

The first team was clean as regards eligibility requirements with the exception of Sheldon. There were several ineligibles among the subs.

The committee seemed to give the coach too free a hand in the disposal of funds of the association, with the result that in the desire to build up a winning team some of it was used for purposes not legitimate in college athletics.

The same old controversy over eligibility of players broke out afresh with Professor Mackenzie and Fairhurst again the champions in the defense of their respective teams. This year State College did not occupy the defensible position she did the year before. It was largely a case of the "pot calling the kettle black." However, State was willing to arbitrate eligibility and K. U. was not.

The difference becoming unresolvable, the Thanksgiving game was called off.

The other games resulted as follows:

September 27—Kentucky vs. Cynthia at Lexington, 52-0.

September 30—Kentucky vs. Catawba at Lexington, 23-0.

October 7—Kentucky vs. Indiana at Bloomington, 0-29.

October 14—Kentucky vs. K. M. I. at Lexington, 12-4.

October 28—Kentucky vs. Berea at Lexington, 46-0.

November 4—Kentucky vs. University of West Virginia at Morgantown, 0-45.

November 11—Kentucky vs. Cumberland University at Lexington, 12-11.

November 18—Kentucky vs. St. Louis University, at St. Louis, 0-82.

November 25—Kentucky vs. Central University at Lexington, 11-11.

Secy.-Treas. Alumni Assn.

REPORT IS MADE BY ALUMNI OFFICE

Brief Summary of Year's Work
Is Published for Those Who Are Unable to Attend Annual Business Meeting.

Since there are a great number of Alumni who will not be able to attend the annual business meeting of the Alumni Association, space is being taken this week to give a short resume of the work that has been done in the alumni office during the year.

Taking the year as a whole there has been some improvement in the affairs of the association. While there has been nothing spectacular there has been a steady growth and gradual increase in the interest of the members. The membership this year is a little larger than that of last and the financial condition of the association, as was the case last year, is fairly healthy. There are no outstanding debts and when the business of this year is closed up there will be a small surplus. Not, however, large enough to be used effectively for the University but large enough to make possible a more intensive campaign for members next year.

The University is rapidly taking on newer and greater importance to the people of the state. There is an ever increasing feeling of friendliness being shown toward the University.

While the appropriation made at the last meeting of the general assembly was not as large as the needs of the University called for, it was more than the University has received for several years. The ever increasing services of the University to the state are beginning to bring about a better understanding of the work and mission of the University. Year by year a more friendly feeling is being shown and with a continual growth of this feeling the University will go forward more rapidly than in the past.

The alumni clubs of the association this year were not as active as they have been in the past. However, several of the clubs were very active and carried out a program of meetings and entertainments during the year.

It is the aim of the officers of the alumni association to get these organizations reorganized during the coming year and to have them functioning as they did during the Great Kentucky campaign. Plans are being made now that will lead to a better organization among the various clubs.

There still is outstanding a large sum in unpaid pledges to the Greater Kentucky Fund. This money is badly needed at this time since the Memorial building, to the Kentuckians who were killed during the World War, is under construction. A large sum of money was borrowed from this fund to complete the work on the stadium, and notes were given by the executive committee to the Greater Kentucky Fund. These notes are due and payments needed. This office also has undertaken to collect the outstanding pledges to the Kentucky Memorial Building Fund and this work has been under way for more than a month. These pledges are being met rapidly.

The most pressing need of the association for the coming year is a larger membership—one large enough to make possible effective work for the University. To all alumni who receive The Kernel this week we wish to make a special appeal. Send us your check for dues for next year right now. Use the blank in the lower corner of this page. A prompt payment of dues now will aid greatly in our attempt to increase the active membership of the association.

WEDDINGS

Boehmer-Arnold

The announcement of the wedding of Robert S. Arnold, who was graduated from the College of Engineering of the University, to Miss Emma K. Boehmer, of Lansdowne, Pa., has just reached this office. The following account of the wedding comes from one of the Philadelphia papers:

"Mrs. Mary Ella K. Boehmer, of Lansdowne, Pa., announces the marriage of her daughter, Emma Kenderline, to Mr. Robert Lee Arnold, Jr., of Richmond, Ky., and Philadelphia. The wedding took place in the Lansdowne Meeting House of the Society of Friends, Saturday, April 28, 1928. The Friends ceremony was used in uniting the couple in marriage. The ceremony was very impressive and was witnessed

No use trying to put a definition around Camel. It is as diverse and fugitive as the delicate tastes and fragrances that Nature puts in her choicest tobaccos, of which Camel is rolled. Science aids Nature to be sure by blending the tobaccos for subtle smoothness and mildness. One way to describe Camel is just to say, "They are good!"

Somehow, news of Camel has got around.

Each smoker telling the other, we suppose. At any rate, it's first—in popularity as well as quality. It has beaten every record ever made by a smoke. Modern smokers have lifted it to a new world leadership.

Camels request a place in your appreciation. Try them upon every test known. You'll find them always loyal to your highest standard.

WEDDINGS

Bethurum-Smith

The marriage of Miss Tevis Bethurum and Mr. Norman P. Smith took place in Falmouth on April 23.

The groom is the eldest son of Dr. and Mrs. Orin Leroy Smith, of Lexington. He is a graduate of the University and of the Virginia Military Institute. He is now in the employ of the Cincinnati Chemical Company. They will be at home in Ft. Thomas, Ky.

ENGAGEMENTS

Robinson-McFarland

Mrs. Emmie de Launay Robinson, of Elberton, Ga., announces the engagement of her daughter, Frances de Launay, to Mr. James Rowland McFarland, of Lexington and New York. The wedding will take place in Lexington, June 5.

Miss Robinson is a senior at the University, and is one of the most attractive and charming girls on the campus. She is a member of the Kappa Delta social sorority, and has had a prominent place in many activities.

Mr. McFarland was graduated from the University in 1925, and since then has been connected with the Bell Telephone Company in Brooklyn, N. Y. While on the campus he was outstanding in all athletics, and he left a remarkable record behind him. He was a member of the Sigma Chi social fraternity.

HARBISON-LAWSON

Mrs. Howard Harbison, of Shelbyville, announced last week the engagement of her daughter, Miss Mary Murray Harbison, to Mr. S. Briggs Lawson. The marriage will be solemnized in June.

Miss Harbison was graduated from the University last June. She was most charming and popular, being a member of the Chi Omega social sorority, battalion sponsor, and a member of various other campus organizations.

CAREY-ADAMS

Mr. and Mrs. James L. Carey announce the engagement of their daughter, Catherine, to Mr. Hampton Collier Adams.

The marriage will take place early in June.

SUKY DANCE

The May Day activities of the University were brought to a close Friday night in the Men's gymnasium by the annual Gingham dance.

The dance is given each year under the auspices of the Suky circle, the "pep" organization of the University. The girls were informally attired in gingham dresses and the boys were dressed suitably for the occasion. Six no-break dances were played and the music was furnished by Ralph Platt's Kentuckian orchestra.

An interesting feature of the affair was the pledging of the new members, who were as follows:

Miss Helen Skinner, women's athletic director, honorary membership; Miss Mary Brown, Mr. James Thompson, Miss Ann Rodes, Mr. Henry Rowman, Mr. Sam Blackburn, Mr. George Whitfield, Miss Frances Bassett, Mr. William Young, Miss Mildred Little, and Mr. Robert Gibson.

The chaperones were Dean and Mrs. Paul Anderson, Dean Sarah Blanding, and Mr. E. F. Farquhar.

Four hundred guests attended the gay affair.

PHI BETA HOLDS INITIATION

Phi Beta, national professional musical and dramatic art fraternity, held its initiation services Saturday afternoon at the Church of the Good Shepherd.

The following girls were initiated: Anna Mary Miller, Edna Earle Burns, Margaret Treasy, Mary Grace Heavener, Nell Spradling, Bonnie Dale Welch, Mary Dale, and Margaret Lewis, associate member.

Following the initiation Founders' Day banquet was held at the Phoenix hotel for patrons, patronesses, alumnae, associate members, actives, and the national inspector, Mrs. Stiehl. Members of the active chapter are Geraldine Cosby, Catherine Carey, Louisa Dudley, Rosanna Ruttenburger, Lola Robinson, Margaret Gooch, Jane Gooch, Edith Fuller, Dorothy Johnson, Olivia Perkins, Alice Young, Nancy Godfrey, Louise Godfrey, Maxine Lewis, Mary Brown Bradley, Rowena Noe, Dorothy Monroe, Mary Ellen Dale, Anne McFarland, and Janet Lalley.

Theta Sigma Phi Luncheon
Members of Theta Sigma Phi were guests of honor at a delightful luncheon Monday at Chimney Corner, with Miss Martha Connell, president of the chapter, as hostess.

After the luncheon, a business meeting was held and election of officers for the next year took place.

The new officers are: Miss Martha Minnihan, president; Miss Catherine Redmond, secretary and treasurer; Miss Katherine Best, correspondent, and Miss Lydia Roberts keeper of the archives.

LAMP and CROSS DANCE
The annual formal dance of the Lamp and Cross, honorary senior fraternity of the University, was given Saturday night from 9 to 12 o'clock in the Men's gymnasium.

The Kentucky Rhythm Kings furnished the music for the dance and six no-breaks were played.

TEAS AT MAXWELL PLACE
Dr. and Mrs. Frank L. McVey entertained at tea Wednesday afternoon for the local visiting club women attending the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs, and on Saturday afternoon for the mothers of the women students at the University for Mother's Day.

FOUNDER'S DAY BANQUET
The Delta Tau Delta chapter of the University entertained with the annual Founder's Day banquet Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock in the Palm room of the Phoenix hotel. Mr. James Shropshire, president of the chapter, presided as toastmaster.

The fraternity colors, purple, white and gold, were carried out in the color scheme, and the fraternity flower, the pansy, added to the decoration for the occasion.

MR. JOHN BULLOCK
Mr. John Bullock of the University was elected as the most prominent man in the chapter and a plaque inscribed with his name was presented to the Lexington chapter by the Louisville alumni.

ABOUT SEVENTY GUESTS
About seventy guests were present, including members from Louisville and surrounding towns.

CHOOSING A COLLEGE

With the close of this scholastic year the high schools of Kentucky will graduate thousands of young men and women, a large number of whom will begin to think seriously about the selection of a college. In these days, certainly, there are few high school graduates who do not look forward to a college career.

The paramount question that confronts the student and his parents then is, "Where shall Johnnie go to college?" or "Which is the best school for Mary?" A most vital question indeed and one to be considered with the utmost seriousness.

Families in which it is the first-born who must choose his Alma Mater are necessarily dependent on what they can read in pamphlets and what they can learn from their friends. And it is as a friend that the Kernel offers them this bit of intelligence about the University of Kentucky.

Offering courses in six colleges and in every line of work, supplying activities in which the highest honors are attainable, giving the student every opportunity for cultural and social development as well as intellectual, the University ranks as one of the leading in the country. If the parent hesitates over doubts arising from the question, "Is a state university too large for the individual to receive helpful personal attention?" let him reflect that in any university it is the personal relationships and the companionships which the student forms that are the basis of all his education and the vital force behind his whole college career. The students who come here from all over the country add to the versatility of all those with whom they come in contact.

We do not need to enumerate the numerous selling points of this school—to we who know it best it is already sold, and we do not seek to increase its enrollment merely for the sake of numbers. We welcome, however, students who are worthy of a place here and whom we may be proud to claim in years to come.

CULTURE

Writes Mr. Ezra Pound for The Nation: "For everything above comfortable brute existence there is a vacuum. It is not the failure in culture of Americans who are doing something totally non-cultural but the utter inefficiency of those who do make a try at cultural activities. The American millionaire is not serious in this matter of the arts."

Mr. Pound gives the impression that only millionaires are interested in culture and that the rest of the hundred and twenty millions who inhabit America are merely interested in making money so that they may live comfortably. This is probably not the consensus of opinion, but it should serve as a warning to men and women who are now preparing to become educated units in the upward trend of civilization. Students ought to take upon themselves the burden of broadening their interests and activities so that the dangers of too great a commercialism will be eliminated to some extent.

It is to be hoped that the aim of a liberal education is not that of merely pecuniary reimbursement, but one of broadening the intellect so that a larger scope of activities may be efficiently considered. One may specialize, but not necessarily to the exclusion of other worth-while things. If people are to enjoy life there should be a taste for the esthetic and Mr. Pond's "vacuum" should be eliminated. It is the duty of college students to perform that elimination by substituting an ever-widening interest in our own American culture. The reward offered by an enquiring mind will amply repay the effort. Culture is not boresome, but is a delightful attribute to progress. Now is the time to acquire it. Now is the chance to learn.

DON'T LET DOWN NOW

Students are prone to forget their studies about this time of the year. It's true, that the balmy evenings and warm afternoons are tempting to college students. Many of them want to "let down" as the semester draws to a close, and these, because of this, receive low grades at the close of the school year.

In life, when one is working for his daily bread, he will not be allowed to "let down" at the close of the year. Therefore this lesson is a wise one to learn while still in college. The price one must pay for the experience outside collegiate circles will be a much dearer one.

Brace up, strive to forget the balmy evenings and warm afternoons and remember, there are still three weeks of school, all of which will count toward the semester grades. Finish with a "bang," don't "let down" now.

CHEWING GUM

The would-be artistic methods employed by the students in the pernicious habit of gum chewing becomes at once a source of wonder and amusement. Subtle exhibitions of this apparently new art are to be seen on every hand.

During the last few weeks, especially, there seems to have been an epidemic of this harmless sport. It seems as if fraternities and sororities of the campus will not allow their respective members to appear on the campus without first being equipped with a package of Spearmint. Now that is all very well and good, and certainly it may be an aid to digestion, but the effect on the observer may be an entirely opposite one.

It is not clever, and surely it is not very healthful, to walk about the streets pulling out gum, twirling it around one's finger and then returning to one's mouth, and then starting the process all over again.

In the event you disagree with us, The Kernel suggests that you try it sometime before the mirror.

WAILS OF THE WEEK

It's just the way you look at the matter. They are dimples if she is 16, while we call them wrinkles if she is 60.

"Came the Yawn," is our suggestion for the beginning of a collegiate story.

Candidates for the varsity golf team at Wisconsin increased two-fold when it was announced that a co-ed would be member of the team. Wotta girl, wotta girl!

Students' officers at the University of Michigan will henceforth be picked solely by merit. Now who in the heck is merit? We'd say it was an engineer if we were discussing Kentucky.

Just as a further remark for the engineers, we quote the following news item picked up: "Fifty Russian students, exiles from their native land, are enrolled in the University of Washington. Most of them are engineers."

Co-education is in disfavor at Lowell College because the men feel that the women simply come to college to hunt a husband. Now we wonder who ever told them that?

A PHILOSOPHER SPEAKING

I'm really very ingenuous
At discovering things,
But still there's one
I can't quite figure out.

My eyes are keen;
And if I get the barest chance to see
I sneak and peek—and so
I find out lots of little things,
Quite choice.

The crowd! They might as well
Not wear clothes
For all it hinders me!

But still there's one
I can't quite figure out;
She's like a nun
In midnight black.

Her dress is all moth-eaten,
And perhaps
The holes are stars,
(Some say they are;
I think they're holes
Because the white shines through).

I wish there were more moths
To eat big holes.
Then I would sneak and peek and see
If she's a nun at heart
Or a jade with jealous eyes
Behind an old black cowl.

I wish I were a moth!
I'd eat a big star-hole
Right through the night
And figure this thing out.

Perhaps I may sometime!
I'm really very ingenuous
At discovering things.

—George W. Fithian.

PROMISES

Broken promises, sweet blossoms,
Cherish them tenderly. Why do you ask of me
Promises? God breaks his promise of harvest
When the pale peach bloom falls on the lea.

—ANON.

METROPOLIS

Gateway to the South,
Glaring across the cool Ohio,
At night in letters twelve feet high.
A spreading infection
At a fracture in the river,
Spreading, spreading, state-wide spreading.
Within your bounds,
There is a park, scarce sixty feet across,
Wherein are fifteen benches.
And on these benches
Old men, bits of flotsam
Left upon the shores of today
By the receding tides of yesteryear,
Are sitting, staring bleakly.
God alone knows where they go
When it sleets,
Or snows, or freezes. There they sit
And stare—at what?
Nothing—nothing—nothing,
Except tomorrow—and tomorrow—and tomorrow.

—O. M. J.

TO GORDON

I am content—I have seen her face.
For a brief moment, like a morning star,
Her beauty splendid shone around me.
Although with the day, like the star, she vanished,
Leaving only a memory of her fair young form
And a dream of her youthful soul,
I am content—I have seen my love!

—R. E. S.

THE KENTUCKY KERNEL

The Critic's Ink Pot

(By Ollie M. James)

The Romany Players are climaxing an unusually successful season with a fitting play, "The Whip of Fire," by Girder Fitch, a former University student and teacher. The plot of the play is a decided departure from the usual run of mystery plays, yet retaining all of their breathless suspense without the use of any of the customary trite situations and happy endings secured by deus ex machina, or what have you? The leads are decidedly well-chosen and are complemented with a capable cast which, combined with the directorial ability of Prof. Carol M. Sax, should produce a play which will fill the Romany theater time and again. The thought that this play is the last to be produced by Romany for at least a year, and possibly will terminate the life of the organization makes us more determined than ever to see it.

"The Blue Danube"—Strand Sunday

* * * * *
The situation of a girl marrying a hideous and scheming hunchback leaves Leatrice Joy just cause for worry in her latest, "The Blue Danube," which comes to the Strand theater Sunday. The plot revolves around a group of village dwellers on the banks of the picturesque river, where both the rich and the poor vie for the attention of the son of royalty. At the traditional wine festival, the baron places the honorary wreath upon the shoulder of an obscure peasant girl. Then follow treachery and war and heartbreaks.

"Y.W.C.A. NOTES"

Installation services for the new officers and cabinet of the Young Woman's Christian Association will be held at 6:45 o'clock Tuesday, May 15, at Patterson hall. We feel that all the women students of the University will be interested in seeing and knowing the new officers who are to plan and lead the work of the Y. W. C. A. for next year.

"Red Hair"—Kentucky—Sunday

Laughter for laughter's sake is the keynote of Clara Bow's new comedy of American life, "Red Hair," which comes to the Kentucky theater Sunday. The vivacious star of "It" repeats her previous successes as an alluring young bit of femininity. Clara acts the part of a manicurist who practices "gold digging" as a side line, and captivates the fancy of three middle-aged lotharios who, in competing for her favors, cast clothes and jewelry at her feet. The little manicurist dances her way into their hearts and out again when she meets and falls in love with their ward, a handsome young man, played by Lane Chandler. Through her own clever handling of situations, she overcomes all of the complications which have arisen, and, after a forced midnight dip into an icy pool, she wins love and happiness. The story was written by Elinor Glyn. Clarence Badger directed.

"Diamond Handcuff's"—Ben Ali

Today

Eleanor Boardman, demure heroine of "Bardelys" and intensely human wife of "The Crowd" plays a girl of the underworld in "Diamond Handcuffs." Cosmopolitan's vivid drama of love, diamonds and the secret haunts of a great city. Primarily the story is one of greed—with a great diamond's sinister shadow launching intrigue, theft, warfare and deceit. The picture is literally three plays in one, each an episode in the sinister career of the diamond. It is mined in Africa, and a native miner sacrifices his life to steal it for the girl he loves. In society it launches a scandal, and breaks up a home. In the underworld it precipitates a war in which police batter their way with machine gun bullets into the haunts of gangsters. Lawrence Gray plays opposite Miss Boardman in the role of a young cigar-store clerk. Conrad Nagel, Gwen Lee, and John Roche form the domestic triangle in the social sequence, and Lena Malena, the fiery little siren of "Chicago" and Charles Stevens are the central figures in Africa at the diamond mines.

"Across to Singapore"—Ben Ali

Sunday

The primitive lure of the sea and the heroism of mariners battling the elements form the background for a drama of love, hate and adventure in "Across to Singapore," Ramon Novarro's new starring vehicle to appear at the Ben Ali theater Sunday. Novarro plays the sailor hero of an amazing love quest that leads him over the Pacific, through terrific storms, mutiny, attacks by Oriental Messrs. Larus & Bro. Co., Richmond, Va.

Dear Sirs:
Just a confession and an appreciation. A number of years ago I was a user of your Edgeworth smoking tobacco. But like some others, perhaps, I was led by alluring advertisements to change.

A few days ago I went into a drug store to get some tobacco, and on the case was the familiar can of Edgeworth. I bought it and since then I have enjoyed old-time comfort.

So my confession is that I made a mistake in changing to other brands, and my appreciation is such that Edgeworth will be my Smoke Pal while I last, which will not be long, for I have passed my "three score years and ten."

Very truly yours,

Phi Beta Pledging

The pledging services of Phi Beta, professional dramatic and music fraternity of the University, were held at the home of Miss Margaret Gooch on Hambrick avenue, Friday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. The guest of honor for the occasion was Mrs. Marian Stehl, of Norwood, Ohio.

Pink roses and spring flowers adorned the table and the toastmistress for the affair was Miss Geraldine Cosby. The following toasts were given:

To the Founders—Miss Margaret Gooch.

To the Pledges—Miss Bonnie Dale Welch.

To the Activities—Mrs. Lola Robinson.

To the Alumni—Miss Kathryn Mc-

Gru.

To the Associate Members — Miss

Cemira Howard.

To the Patrons—Mr. Blaine Schick.

The pledges were Misses Bonnie Dale Welch, Margaret Treacy, Ann Mary Miller, Nell Spradlin, Mary Grace Heavenridge, Margaret Lewis, Edna Earl Burns, and Mary Dale.

The formal initiation took place Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the Good Shepherd church. The annual founder's day banquet was given a short time later in the Palm room of the Phoenix hotel.

At the conclusion of the program Mrs. Stehl gave an interesting talk.

Celebrated Clown
Visits Engineers

Joe Gould, famous clown, who has been in the show business for years, and who is now with the John Robinson's circus, visited Dean Anderson and the engineering students Thursday.

When the Senior engineers visited Buffalo, N. Y., on their inspection trip, Mr. Gould was one of the speakers at a reception tendered them by the Kentucky alumni at Buffalo, and after meeting the seniors Mr. Gould said that he would be in Lexington "and I'm sure coming around to see you all."

After visiting Dean Anderson and the various engineering classes, the celebrated clown was guest of honor and chief speaker at the Rotary club luncheon.

ROLLER DERBY TO BE RUN TOMORROW

Event Will Begin at 1 o'clock on Euclid Avenue in Front of Men's Gym; Rivals Kentucky Derby in Interest.

Tomorrow is Derby Day! Second in importance and general interest to the great Kentucky Derby only is the University's own Roller Skating Derby which will take place tomorrow afternoon, beginning at 1 o'clock on Euclid avenue in front of the Men's gymnasium. The dead-line on entries has been moved up and all names turned in to the intra-mural office by 6 o'clock today will be accepted.

At any other place on this old globe, sporting events such as those to be held tomorrow would be known as skating races but down here in the Blue Grass country where only thoroughbreds originate and thrive, popular demand has caused them to take the name of "Kentucky Skating Derby." A goodly crowd of University students and townspeople will be on hand for the contests if the number of persons who witnessed the initial derby last spring can be used as a criterion.

The skating derby is the feature of the intra-mural program and will close the individual athletic contests promoted by that department for the school year. M. E. Potter, who is in charge of the derby, states that the skating races are perhaps the most popular of intra-mural sports. There will be three races for the co-eds, three for the "eds," a sorority and a fraternity relay. Trophies to be awarded to the winners of each event will be placed on display in the windows of the K shop the last of this week.

W. H. Hanson, "dean" of the physical education department, has agreed to act as the starter for every race. Other prominent members of the University faculty will hold the watches, act as judges, and fill the rest of the official positions.

The time for the races to start was set for 1 o'clock in order that these events would not clash with the baseball game between Kentucky and Eastern Normal scheduled for 3 bells this afternoon. Mr. Potter announced that all the races would be completed in plenty of time for the spectators and contestants to proceed to Stoll Field for the game.

SPRING PRACTICE IN BASKETBALL STARTED

On the heels of spring football practice comes an announcement from Coach Johnnie Mauer that a period of practice in spring basketball will begin May 14. Basketball is a very popular sport in Kentucky and for a long time it has occupied a position next to football in the hearts of the public. An attempt has been inaugurated by this efficient coach from Illinois to better Kentucky's already prominent position in the realm of southern basketball, in which, over a long period of years, Kentucky has failed but once, in 1927, to be classed as one of the four best Southern teams.

Squad Practices Daily
This practice will occur daily for two weeks and has two cardinal purposes: one, to instill the Mauer system in the play of a large, new squad; the other, to give Coach Mauer some indication of the amount and quality of the material he will have to build a championship team next season.

The following men are expected to report: Captain McGinnis, McBrayer, Milward, Owens, Combs, Trott, Spier, Hayn, Dees, Gormley, Bronston, Jeffries, Speaks, Harvey, Ray, Murphy, Martin, Johnson, Estes, Gilb, Waddil, Campbell, Wilson, Rose, Hoffman, McLane, Miller, Tork, Sisk, Gibson, Vise, and Weinman. And, in the words of Coach Mauer, "I would advise that you (and any others who wish to come out) make a special effort to be there at all times."

BEATS OLD RECORD FOR HALF BY SECOND

(By Hayes Owens)

At last a few of the many track followers who wanted to see Kentucky's Olympic hope, "Bill" Gess, do his stuff, got an opportunity Saturday to see him perform in the meet with Sewanee on the local track. Kentucky's ace not only showed the people he could run, but chalked up four records beside him in one day. He and his team-mates swamped the Sewanee Tigers by a score of 75 to 42.

GESS LOWERS RECORD

Gess lowered the Southern Conference record in the half-mile which was 1:57.5, established in 1926, to 1:56.1. In the same event he bettered the state and local track records by three and five-tenths seconds. He also did the quarter in 50.3 seconds, lowering his own record made in 1926 by a tenth of a second. Thomasson ran second to Gess in both of these events. James, another Kentucky artist, set a new record on the local track the shot put, throwing the shot 39 feet 6 inches to break a record of 39 feet 1 inch set in 1922 by H. Wilson. Southern Conference officials must pass on Gess' record in the half-mile before it will become official.

Autin was the best runner on the Sewanee team, winning first place in every event in which he was entered. He won the 100-yard dash in :10.2; the 220 in :22.9, and the 220 low hurdles in :25.7. Officials of the meet declared that Autin and Gess were two of the best track men ever to appear on Stoll Field.

ROOT INJURES KNEE

Root had an off day in his events, suffering a very serious injury to his knee when he fell in the low hurdle race. His injury will probably handicap him in the Southern Conference meet this week.

Considering the condition of the track following the heavy rains Friday night and Saturday morning, the events were run off in good time and close finishes made them very interesting. Possibly the weather and the fact that the meet was held on Saturday afternoon lessened the attendance, but there was a comparatively large number present, most of whom were town people, alumni, and newspaper reporters. This was the only local meet in which Kentucky has participated this season. It was also the last meet of the season for the Wildcats except the Southern Conference event which will be held at Birmingham, Ala., today and tomorrow.

Summary:

100-yard Dash — Autin, Sewanee, first; Kirkendall, Kentucky, second. Time :10.2.

Mile — Owens, Kentucky, first; Akin, Kentucky, second. Time 4:38.5.

220-yard Dash — Autin, Sewanee, first; Kirkendall, Kentucky, second. Time :22.9.

High Hurdles — Maxson, Kentucky, first; Root, Kentucky, second. Time :19.8.

440-yard Run — Gess, Kentucky, first; Thomasson, Kentucky, second. Time :50.2.

Two Miles — Dorchman, Kentucky, first; Boyd, Sewanee, second. Time 10:29.1.

220 Low Hurdles — Autin, Sewanee, first; Freyer, Sewanee, second. Time :25.7.

Half-Mile — Gess, Kentucky, first; Thomasson, Kentucky, second. Time 1:56.1.

Shot Put — James, Kentucky, first; Kavanaugh, Kentucky, second. Distance, 39.6.

Discus — Bean, Sewanee, first; Kavanaugh, Kentucky, second. Distance, 118.3.

Javelin — Rhodemeyer, Kentucky, first; Weaver, Sewanee, second. Distance 145 3-4.

Pole Vault — Schofield, Sewanee, first; Roberts, Kentucky, second. Height, 11.

High Jump — De Martino, Sewanee, first; West, Kentucky, second. Distance, 5:6.

Broad Jump — West, Kentucky, first; Young, Sewanee, second. Distance, 20:9 1-2.

Officials — Starter, Hinton, Georgetown. Finish Judges, L. F. Zerfoss, Vanderbilt; Roy Moreland, Chicago University. Timers — Brower, Oklahoma University; Thomas Dewhurst, University of Kentucky; B. D. Caulkins, Hillsdale College, Mich.

TENNIS TOURNEY DRAWING TO CLOSE

Horseshoe Singles and Doubles Have Reached Quarter-Finals and Semi-Finals in Brackets; "Ringlers" Welcome.

The intra-mural tennis and horse shoe tournaments which have been in progress for the past three weeks, are rapidly drawing to a close and are expected to be completed the first of next week. Horseshoe singles and doubles have reached the quarter- and semi-finals in both brackets while the tennis doubles have likewise passed into the quarter-finals stage. Tennis singles, which drew an unusually large starting field, still have a few fourth-round games to be played but probably will enter the quarter-finals tomorrow.

The horseshoe pits, which are probably the only place in the athletic realm where "ringlers" are openly welcomed, have been the scene of considerable activity every afternoon

since the tourney formally began.

Shouts of joy and groans of grief are often heard in that immediate neighborhood as the "blacksmith's playmates" argue over every point. This

COLLEGE SPORTS

(By Bill Reep)

Three more games remain on the Wildcat program for this season and, after the passing of these conflicts, athletic activity for Kentucky State will be abandoned until this coming fall when the thud of the pigskin will be heard to resound within the folds of Stoll Field.

After these three games have been played, it will then be time to decide whether or not the present baseball season has been very much of a success. So far this year the 'Cats have played mediocre baseball in their games and they have not played up to the standard which we feel they are capable of playing. To date the 'Cats have played about thirteen or more games and out of that number they have won about four or five. With that average against them it does not look as if the season will be a "howling" success.

Last Friday and Saturday the team played in Rogersville, Tenn., where they engaged the Pressman's Home in a double-header. The Pressmen won the first game 11 to 5 after Charley Wert had held them to one hit during five innings and no runs. In the remaining four stanzas the men of the press came back and pounded the offerings of two other pitchers for eleven runs. In the game Saturday the 'Cats came to life and pounded the apple for fourteen hits in which they turned in ten scores to the technical men's six.

Tomorrow the 'Cats will take on the slugging men from Eastern Normal, in a game that should be marked with spectacular playing on both sides. The Normal outfit boasts a mighty good team and they possess a pitcher who carries a reputation of no mean repute. More than likely he will be on the mound for the Normans and, if reports run true to form, he should cause the 'Cat men plenty of worry. On the other hand if the 'Cats run true to form in their hitting ability, there is not a pitcher in the South who can stop the Major men once they get started.

If the 'Cats do win the remaining games on their schedule they will have a mighty good chance to claim the state championship. The honor of gaining that title is something to look forward to since we are out of the conference running and a laurel of merit is always welcome to any school. The season will be brought to a close next Monday when the Wildcats cross bats with the Centre Colonels for the second time this year. State won the first game by a decisive score and they should repeat Monday.

In the track meet Saturday with Sewanee the Wildcats showed real good form in defeating the Sewanee tracksters by an overwhelming score of 75 to 42. We are telling the whole wide world it was worth the whole meet to see Bill Gess step the 440 and 880 in a way that is entirely his own. If the half-mile run Bill not only shattered the track and state record, but he clipped one and four-fifths seconds from the Southern conference record which was made in 1926. Bill ran the half-mile in 1:56:1, and the old record was 1:57:4-10. James also set a new track record for the shot putt when he put the sixteen-pound weight 39 feet and 6 inches.

Two commendable acts of sportsmanship have been displayed by two members of the track team in the past two meets. Perhaps some might not have noticed the fact, and for the benefit of the ones who might not know we think it deserving of personal mention. Before relating the two incidents it will be best to mention the fact that to win a letter in track as set down by the Southern Conference rules, a member of the team has to score eight points in two successive meets.

In the meet with Vanderbilt two weeks ago Maxson ran second in the 120 yard high hurdles, thus scoring three points. In the meet with Sewanee last week Maxson and Root were running in the 120 yard hurdles and it was only natural that Root should win. Instead of taking first place Root let Maxson get in front of him and then virtually just chased him to the tape and a first place. This was sufficient points for Maxson to be awarded a letter at the end of the season and a mighty fine bit of sportsmanship on the part of Root when he knew that he could have won the race hands down.

The other incident occurred when James won the shot put last Saturday and it was a mighty heave he gave that ball of iron. Heretofore "Iron Man" Kavanaugh had been putting the shot farther than James and it was over at Centre last week that James came second in that event. Last Saturday "Kavanaugh" put it first for 34 feet and did not take another trial as the Sewanee man did not equal his mark and he allowed James to continue his efforts until he reached the fine mark of 39 feet and six inches which gave him first place. Kavanaugh's first heave of 34 feet and some inches was good for second place. This allowed grounds for James winning a letter and there has not been a man that has worked harder than Jamie for the interests of the team.

"It is just as crooked for a student to cram his head with innumerable details at the last minute as it is to carry written information into the examination room," is the opinion of the head of the chemistry department at Syracuse University. He says that no football player would start to train 30 minutes before a game, and believes that mental training is on the same order.

ST. XAVIER WINS TENNIS MATCH FROM 'CATS

The University of Kentucky tennis team fell before the onslaught of the court stars from St. Xavier College last Friday on the University courts by the score of 4-1. The 'Cat net-men were in top form and put up a game fight for victory but they were slightly outclassed by the Cincinnati match.

The two Kentucky stars, Ragland and Captain Cohen, shower unusual skill in their matches but their play was somewhat overshadowed by the exhibition of real tournament tennis by Tommy Clines, intercollegiate singles champion of Ohio, and his equally famous brother, Billy.

Johnson Defeats Specht

Johnson took Specht into camp, 6-4, 6-4, to account for Kentucky's only victory. Although Cohen and Caulkins threatened when they took the first set from Sonnenman and Nolan, 6-2, the visiting combination rallied to annex the other two sets and the match.

The results:

Billy Clines (X) defeated Ragland (K) 7-5, 6-4.

Tommy Clines (X) defeated Cohen (K) 6-3, 6-1.

Johnson (K) defeated Specht (X) 6-4, 6-4.

Clines and Clines (X) defeated Ragland and Hamersley (K) 6-3, 6-4.

Sonnenman and Nolan (X) defeated Cohen and Caulkins (K) 2-6, 6-4, 6-1.

Louisville Fails to Appear

Coach H. H. Downing is determined to keep his charges busy and three meets were scheduled for this week. The Wildcat racquetiers were carded to face stiff opposition from Eddie Weber and his mates from the University of Louisville on Tuesday of this week. However the Cardinals failed to make their appearance and the University fans were denied another juicy morsel of tennis skill. The Blue and White netmen journeyed to Georgetown yesterday for a return match with the Tigers. At the time this paper went to press the results were not known but the 'Cats were favorites by virtue of their easily won victory in the previous contest between the two teams.

The Kentucky tennis team takes its annual Southern trip tomorrow when the ranking players hit the trail to Danville. The Colonels of Centre College will furnish the opposition but the 'Cats are expected to bring home the bacon since they made a clean sweep over the same team not quite two weeks ago by a 6 to 0 score.

FRESHMEN TO PLAY ATHENS HIGH TODAY

On Stoll Field at 3 o'clock this afternoon, a valiant bunch of youngsters will close their freshman baseball careers while battling the Athens High school ball tossers. The game this afternoon is a return engagement of the two teams, the first conflict going to the Kittens by an overwhelming score. True to their name, however, the Athenians have come to Lexington with vengeance in their hearts and before the dust settles, a real game will have been played.

The Frosh have been handicapped considerably by having to contend with an unusually short schedule and very weak opposition. These factors have kept the team from "turning on" but, as the game this afternoon is the last of the present season, a great showing is anticipated.

Coach Mauer has developed McMurray into the star role of pitching for the yearlings, and he appears to be good varsity material for next year. The team has been rather consistent as a whole, and no outstanding stars have been discovered. However, Barnes and Toth have been doing commendable work with the bat and their hitting featured the last few games.

The probable line-up for the freshmen is as follows: Krueger, lb; Penwell, 2b; Toth, ss; Ileitz or Beard, 3b; Murphy or Kelley, rf; Kellogg or Trott, cf; Meredith, lf; Barnes, c; and McMurray, p.

NORTHWESTERN TO INTRODUCE COURSE ON BUSINESS ETHICS

Northwestern University will be the first institution to present a course of business ethics in connection with its school of commerce, when such a study is added next year. It has been made possible by a gift of $25,000 for that express purpose. Said Dean Ralph E. Heilman:

"If departments of commerce in our colleges and universities provide the rising generation with a greater mastery of business technique and methods without developing a strong sense of the moral obligations of the business man, the result may be disastrous."

"University education for business aims to provide the young man with better tools there must be better tools of business; but if he is provided a strong control of the use of such tools. It is of the utmost importance that there be developed in the business leaders of tomorrow a strong ethical sense and a keen realization of the social obligations of business."

U. K. Graduates Hold Banquet Wednesday

Dr. George Arps, of Ohio State, Delivers Principal Address at Annual Meeting

Dr. George F. Arps, dean of the College of Education at Ohio State University, delivered the principal address at the annual banquet of the University Graduate Club which was held at the Phoenix hotel Wednesday evening. His subject was, "Favorable Conditions for the Pursuit of Graduate Work."

Dr. Arps outlined his conception of an ideal graduate school where students were not required to report to any college officials before deciding the course that they should follow in obtaining their advanced degree. He believes that adult students should be permitted to follow their own desires, even to the extent of cutting all of their classes if they so desired. Students should not be required to do any work as long as they are prepared to take the final examinations when they apply for degrees. After Dr. Arps had finished his talk, an open forum was held.

George Bryson, president of the Graduate Club, was toastmaster. Dr. Frank L. McVey, president of the University, delivered the address of welcome; Miss Evelyn Prewitt played a violin solo; Dr. W. D. Funkhouser, dean of the Graduate School, made final announcements to his students; and the Blue Grass quartet, composed of Hugh Adecock, Squire Cummings, Lawrence Alexander and Ray Mays, sang a few selections, accompanied by Lorraine Yost at the piano. There were 200 advanced students, members of the faculty, and guests present at the banquet.

GLEE CLUB GIVES OPERETTA

The Girl's Glee Club of the University will present a Chinese operetta entitled "The Feast of the Little Lanterns," by Bliss, at the Romany theater tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. The four principal roles will be taken as follows: Princess Chan, Nancy Godfrey; Mai Ku, Nell Spradlin; Wee Ling, Josephine Frazier; and Ow Long, Evelyn Sandusky. The price of admission will be thirty-five cents.

As a result of promiscuous kissing at a sorority initiation 60 members of the Clionian sorority at New York State Normal School were placed under quarantine for scarlet fever. One of the members was afflicted with the disease, and since she had kissed every person present at the initiation, everyone was placed under quarantine.

Strollers Elect New Officers for School Year 1929

Addison Yeaman, this year's director of "Dulcy," the Stroller play, was elected the 1928-29 president of that organization at the annual Stroller banquet, Thursday, May 3, at the Chimney Corner.

Frank Davidson was elected to fill the office of director and Lewis McDannold was chosen as his assistant. Henriette Blackburn was selected as secretary; Don Forman, stage manager, and Sam Manly, treasurer. Bernice Byland will continue as publicity chairman.

Miss Marguerite McLaughlin, Prof. Enoch Grehan, and Prof. E. F. Farquhar were guests at the dinner. Both Miss McLaughlin and Mr. Grehan reviewed the activities of Strollers during their 19 years as a dramatic organization on the University campus.

In appreciation of his efforts the cast of this year's play presented Addison Yeaman with a fountain pen and the stage crew presented Frank Davidson with a silver eversharp pencil.

sity speaker, replied to Mr. Rankin that if the Americans did not defend their and other foreigners' rights that the other nations would do it. Mr. Davis pointed out that the alleged imperialistic policy has been carried on for years, notably in Haiti and San Domingo, with events far worse than are now occurring in Nicaragua. "World peace was not endangered then," Mr. Davis said, "so why should it be menaced now, under exactly the same conditions, in Nicaragua?"

Naff, the third affirmative speaker, indulged in much irony against Coolidge and the Republican administration. He pointed out that the Coolidge administration was attempting to murder its affection into the breast of the Nicaraguans.

Richard Weaver concluded the constructive arguments in agreeing with everything Naff said about Coolidge. Weaver said that both the negative and affirmative speakers agree that Coolidge is incapable of doing anything either bad or good, therefore he came to the conclusion that "the administration couldn't do anything to menace world peace." Weaver said that Rankin gave a characteristic Coolidge speech—"nothing in it from cover to cover."

Wolfe, in the first rebuttal, declared the purpose of the Coolidge policy is to produce peaceful and stable governments in Central America.

Gordon said that the negative had presented a "more or less able defense of bloodshed." He accused Weaver of "not knowing enough to speak for his own side" because of the freshman debater's denunciation of Coolidge.

When the debate had been concluded, the meeting became an open forum affair, members of the audience being permitted to interrogate the speakers. Four students in the audience took advantage of this opportunity and helped to clarify the arguments.

Class of 1908 Will Hold First Reunion

The class of 1908, of the University, will hold a twentieth-year reunion May 26 at the University. The total membership of the class was 86, and out of 84 living members, 39 have definitely signified their intention of attending the meeting. It is hoped that this reunion will take place every five years. An interesting program has been arranged by Sunshine Sweeney, Ella Buckner Johnston, and Perry Hamilton. This is the first attempt on the part of any class to have a reunion similar to those of Eastern colleges.

PRE-MEDS BANQUET TONIGHT

The Pre-Medical Society's banquet will be held in the cafeteria of the Administration building this evening at 6:30 o'clock. Dr. J. A. Stucky will address the society and it is hoped that every pre-medical student in the University will be out to this meeting. Tickets may be obtained from any senior pre-med.

Bulletins Issued For Home 'Ec' Teachers

Teachers' Conference Will Be Held at University June 4 to June 16

Bulletins, outlining the courses to be offered for home economics teachers during the summer session, June 11 to July 14, have been sent to all teachers, both graduates and undergraduates, interested in that subject, by the home economics department of the University.

The courses offered were planned with the idea of helping home economic teachers to keep abreast of the times. A specially trained faculty composed of Miss Laurentza Hansen, M. A., Teachers College, Columbia University; Miss Isabelle Hitchcock, M. A., head of the home economics department of Defiance College, Ohio, and Miss Mary Dey, M. A., Kansas Agricultural College and instructor in foods and home management at the University here, will present the courses.

A conference for the home economics teachers of the state will be held June 4 to 16. Curriculum construction, problem solving, and the teaching of family relationship will be taken up by specialists brought to Kentucky for this conference. Teachers attending it can obtain two credits for this work and, upon completion of the conference, can enroll for summer school work.

Plans Are Completed For Agricultural Hop

A special meeting of the committee on finance and decoration of the Agricultural Society was called Monday night at the Home Management house for the purpose of completing the plans for the annual dance with which the College of Agriculture will entertain May 12 in the Men's gymnasium.

The committees composed of Penrose Ecton, chairman; Louise Gott, Bill Brady, Ann B. Eyl, H. C. Brown, Irene Warnick, Josephine Frazer, and G. H. Karnes, announced that all agricultural students may obtain their bids in the Agricultural building on Thursday and Friday.

Other students on the campus desiring to attend the dance must obtain their bids from some member of the College of Agriculture.

PRESS ASSOCIATION NAMED

Appointees for the University State Press Association, who are appointed to serve throughout the 1928-29 session, are James Dorman, Elizabeth Billiter, Katherine Holiday, Agnes Stimar, Belle Nelson, Ollie James, Jesse Mae Sun, and Virginia Brosher. These students are named annually by the department of journalism to handle the state journalistic work.

"The National Joy Smoke" is no mere catch-phrase

YOU can prove it. Prince Albert is the Nation's largest-selling brand of pipe-tobacco. It brings joy to more smokers than any other brand. Q.E.D.! Your first fragrant whiff will set your mouth a-waterring.

And your first taste of good old P.A. in a pipe will satisfy your pipe-hunger as nothing else ever has. Cool as the first period. Welcome as the last. Mellow and mild and long-burning, right to the bottom of the bowl. Try P.A., Fellows, on my say-so.
